

Bullying:

We can all help stop it

Schools should be a place where students, staff, parents/guardians and the community all feel welcome. Bullying, in all its forms, is a serious issue that can affect students' learning, sense of safety and overall well-being.

Children may be reluctant or unsure how to talk about bullying.

Here are some signs to look out for:

- complaining of being sick on school days
- having disrupted sleeping or eating habits
- not joining social events with other students
- acting differently than they normally do
- seeming distressed after phone, text or social media contact with others
- suddenly losing money or personal items
- coming home with torn clothes or broken possessions

We all have a responsibility to stop bullying. We encourage everyone – students, parents, guardians, educators – to get involved with bullying prevention.
